

WHALEN ACCUSES HUGHES OF PAYING DOUBLE SALARIES

Secretary of State, Hitting Back at Governor, Says State Law Is Violated.

NEW OFFICES CREATED.

Answers Charge of Increased Expenditures by Democratic Officials.

ALBANY, Sept. 30.—Secretary of State John S. Whalen gave out a statement to-day in reply to the criticism passed upon the Democratic State officers by Gov. Hughes last Saturday evening in his speech of acceptance in Brooklyn, when the Governor referred to the increased expense accounts of the elective State officials. Secretary Whalen in his statement compares the expenses of the executive department for the past two years with the administration of Gov. Higgins, and says that Gov. Hughes has spent nearly $10,000 in excess of the amount expended by Gov. Higgins. Mr. Whalen says in part:

"Gov. Hughes in the course of his speech Saturday evening in Brooklyn said that the appropriations for the running expenses of the Secretary of State's office are in excess of that of any of my predecessors. This is true, but the Governor should have been fair in his statement and added that while the expenses have been greater the fees have increased accordingly. Last year the Secretary of State's office turned into the State Treasurer more than $100,000, which was nearly $15,000 in excess of the amount received by the department the previous year.

Hughes Creates Offices.
"The appropriation for the two years under John P. O'Brien was in round figures about $124,000 and in the two years of my administration about $128,000, leaving an excess in my appropriations for the two years of about $4,000. In one year of my administration the fees amounted to nearly $10,000 more than during the previous administration. So that the State spent $4,000 in two years in the Secretary of State's office to make $10,000 in one year.

"While Gov. Hughes was making comparisons in the several State departments why did he not make up a table comparing the expenses of the executive department for the past two years with those of 1896 and 1907? If he had he would have found that under Gov. Hughes the executive department has cost the State nearly $40,000 more than it did during the two years of the late Gov. Higgins.

"It is an interesting study for one to go over the annual appropriation bills for the past two years. In the 1907 bill I find an item of $2,000 to pay Col. Treadwell, military secretary to the Governor.

"In the Appropriation bill of 1907 I also find that a new office was created by the signature of the Governor, that of keeper and recorder of legislative bills, to which position the military secretary to the Governor was assigned at a salary of $1,500. In order to have the military secretary to the Governor draw a full year's pay for this new position there was inserted in the Annual Supply bill an item covering his salary from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1.

Law Against Double Pay.
"For Open L. Potter, now counsel to the Governor, an item was inserted in the 1908 Supply bill to cover his work in preparing and indexing laws. At that time Mr. Potter was acting as clerk in the Executive Department and drawing a salary as such. I wonder if the Governor is familiar with Chapter 221 of the laws of 1891, which prohibits the paying of extra compensation to State employees?

"It states that no person holding a position or employment in the department, bureau, commission or office for which a definite salary or compensation has been appropriated or provided shall receive any extra salary or compensation in addition to that so fixed. This law fully covers the Treadwell and Potter cases."

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINEES.

Republicans held Congressional conventions in the eleven New York County districts last night. Eight of the districts are now represented by Democrats. The Republican nominations last night were as follows:
Eighth District—James E. Winterborn, underwriter.
Ninth—Admiral.
Tenth—Gustave Hartman, school teacher.
Eleventh—Lawrence L. Briggs, lawyer.
Twelfth—Admiral.
Thirteenth—Herbert Parsons, lawyer, renominated.
Fourteenth—Emanuel Castka, druggist.
Fifteenth—J. Van Vechten Olcott, lawyer, renominated.
Sixteenth—Frank A. Adams, editor.
Seventeenth—W. S. Bennett, professional politician, renominated.
Eighteenth—Joel E. Spingarn, professor.

BRYAN PORTRAIT ON APPLES.

Grown on Fruit in Connecticut—Nebraska to Get Two.

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 30.—The seedling of a Bethlehem farmer is exhibiting four apples which he succeeded in growing with the portrait of William J. Bryan plainly shown on the skin. He will send two of them to Mr. Bryan.

Two years ago Scudder succeeded in growing an apple with the facsimile of the signature of the Democratic candidate for Governor.

FALLS DEAD WHILE AT WORK.
Benedict Koch, fifty-one years old, of No. 343 Ralph avenue, Brooklyn, dropped dead of heart disease to-day while he was at work in the shop of Charles S. Platt & Co., gold assayers and refiners, at No. 29 Gold street. He had been in the employ of the concern for twenty years.

Mrs. Gouraud's Startling Evening Gown Worn at Play Suggests Flames in Fabric

Princess Creation, Long Train, Divided Attention With "The Defenders."

Mrs. Jackson Gouraud's evening gown, worn at the Edison opening at the Hudson Theatre Monday night, was a startling creation. It divided attention with the play.

The gown is described as follows: Over a slip of flesh color is a black gauze princess wonderfully fitted with a long train. Starting with a neckband of black paillettes, the entire robe down to the hem is strewn with black and gold paillettes in a pattern that suggests nothing so much as conventionalized flames. The sleeves are of gauze knotted at the elbows, and the long ends which come to the hem of the dress are finished with golden tassels.

BINGHAM SENDS WASSERMAN INTO FURTHER EXILE

Former Favorite at Headquarters Goes Down to Lonely Roads of Tottenville.

When the reporters asked Commissioner Bingham if he had any news to-day he returned this cryptic answer: "Look over the list of to-day's transfers—you'll probably find something interesting on it."

So the reporters hunted up Secretary Dan Slattery who showed them today's register of the Police Department, which ordinarily would not be available for newspaper purposes until tomorrow. And lo, the name of Joseph A. Wasserman.

Wasserman, once a sergeant, but now a plain cop, led all the rest. He is sent in exile from the Alexander avenue station in the Bronx, which is one of the goat precincts, to the ends of the world—to wit, to Tottenville at the extreme end of Staten Island looking out into the sea, where he will walk a post along the beach and through the country roads.

This May Explain It.
Yesterday when he was asked about the gambling exposé that a morning paper had printed the Commissioner said that he knew about it three days before it appeared in print. He also volunteered the statement that a uniformed man had furnished the paper with its information and said he expected to take action in the case of the snafu at once.

Wireless of the Police Department process to see a connection between the remarks of Gen. Bingham yesterday and the transfer of the luckless Wasserman to-day. Wasserman used to be a favorite around Headquarters, but while detailed to detective work on the staff of District Attorney Jerome he fell into disfavor with his superiors in the department at the same time that County Detective Eddie Heardon lost his peacock feathers.

Back in the Ranks.
Wasserman was brought back to No. 30 Mulberry street under charges and again reduced to the ranks. Since then, walking a lonely beat in an ordinary policeman's uniform, he has been nursing a large, spongy, V-shaped growth. He used to know a lot about the inside of gambling operations in New York when he led raids from the District Attorney's office.

During this forenoon Commissioner Bingham had all the inspectors of the greater city before him for more than half an hour. Through the oaken door of the Commissioner's office came the sound of the Commissioner's peacock feathers raised to a loud shout and the smash, smash of his fist. His was giving the inspectors their orders regarding the sudden upspringing of the gambling eye.

NOTES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

It has not been determined by "Boss" Murphy who will be named for Congress to-morrow night to succeed Bourke Cockran. Only one thing has been settled, and that is Jefferson M. Levy will not be nominated. The question of campaign contribution is said to have been the sticking point.

Gov. Hughes has been the oratorical hit of the Republican campaign, according to Chairman Hitchcock. The demand for speakers from the Governor in the Middle West exceeds the records for all speakers save Judge Taft.

Senator Frank O. Briggs, of New Jersey, said to-day: "New Jersey will give a plurality of 25,000 to Taft. That is a most conservative estimate. It will take more than a long-eared donkey to get a single Republican vote for Bryan in my State."

The story that Chairman Hitchcock's desk in Republican headquarters had been rifled of important letters was his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeiters and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeiters, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

BONAPARTE NOW UNDER FIRE OF THE DEMOCRATS

Asked How Many Trusts He Has Prosecuted and What He Further Intends to Do.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Joseph Daniels, chairman of the Democratic Press Committee, to-day made public a letter written to Attorney-General Bonaparte at the instance of the Democratic National Committee, asking the Attorney-General how many of the 27 so-called trusts of the country have been proceeded against in the courts by the Federal Government, and how many more cases he expects to file.

GRADY GOING BACK TO STATE SENATE.

Tammany leaders had about given up the search for Senator Thomas F. Grady when he showed up in the Hall this afternoon after an absence of several weeks. He appeared in such fine form that everybody asked where he had been.

"On a Southern hunting trip after big game," grinned Grady in reply. "The Tammany state has been changed so that Grady goes back to the State Senate instead of being nominated as successor in Congress to Bourke Cockran. 'Big Tim' Sullivan is going to the Senate again and he wants Grady for his side partner, so both of them will be nominated Friday night."

CLARENCE SHEARN TO T.A.L.K.

Clarence Shearn, the Independence party candidate for Governor, and his associates on the State ticket are doing more work in the campaigning line than the candidates on the other tickets. They addressed several meetings last night. To-night at Cooper Union the Independence party will hold its first mass-meeting. Arthur Brisbane will preside. Mr. Shearn and the other candidates will speak.

BECKETT FOR SURROGATE.

Leading Members of the Bar Ask Him to Run.

Forty of the leading members of the New York bar sent a letter to Surrogate Charles H. Beckett to-day asking him to declare himself a candidate for election to the office which he now holds by appointment of Gov. Hughes. The request was made as the date for the election of the nominating convention of the political parties.

Among the signers are Edmund W. Moore, Hamilton Odell, Rudolph B. Ransome, Dr. James N. Col, George W. Schuyler, J. Hamilton Dougherty, Edward B. West, J. Frederick K. Ketchum, James H. Caldwell, Herbert L. Satterlee, Benjamin N. Cardozo, John W. McLean, William B. Egan, and Adam H. Telle. Henry W. Taft, Frederick C. Condit and Lewis L. Deland.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Charles H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeiters and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

HITCHCOCK TO MAKE SHIFT IN CAMPAIGN PLAN

Lack of Funds Will Compel the State Committee to Do Most of the Fighting.

The financial crisis in Republican political affairs has caused a radical change to be made in the plan of campaign.

Chairman Hitchcock to-day that the dearth of funds had compelled the National Committee to shift a large part of the work and responsibility to State committees, who will have to carry on the battle in their respective regions.

Financial managers were in session most of the day at national headquarters. Closed with the Chairman and Treasurer Sheldon at times were Assistant Treasurer Upham, who came on from Chicago, Senator Crane, leader of the Advisory Committee, Charles H. Davies, treasurer of the Congressional Campaign Committee, who also came on from Chicago, and all the rich men of the various committees within reach.

"The financial situation has not improved as we hoped," said Mr. Hitchcock. "I am frank to say that the gentlemen named have come on for the purpose of discussing the situation. At the beginning of the campaign I foresaw the necessity of shifting part of the responsibility to State committees, but I did not anticipate the extent of the contribution difficulty."

The Chairman was asked whether, since poverty was being made a virtue, the Republicans would meet the Democrats in publishing their contributions every week. He replied that the subject belonged to Mr. Charles H. Davies, and had not been considered by the committee.

Some are reports, however, that the Republicans are planning some coup on the contribution business to get ahead of the Democrats and publish their list on Oct. 15.

Dr. John W. Cox, for many years Mr. Bryan's personal friend and host in New York, is the assistant treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. Herman Roden, the new treasurer, is to spend most of his time in Chicago trying to raise funds, while Dr. Cox, who has a few dollars himself, will endeavor to gather in some New York dough.
